

Humanity?

Oh, Humanity,
What are you?
Being kind and helpful?
Laughter and friendship?
Love and Family?
If yes,

Where are you?

Do you even exist?
It doesn't feel like you do.
Where were you when
People let other people die because of their beliefs?
Different countries fought against each other?
People murder and shoot?

All that for no reason

Where were you?
Where are you ?
We need you.

I need you.

People have to start thinking again,
Being kind and helpful to each other.
Can you help?
I don't think so,
otherwise you already would've been there.
Don't you think so ?
I cannot believe in you anymore.
You were not there, when we have needed you.

Oh, Humanity
